

Witch

lancaſter fantasy rally
newsletter
ſaturday 17th november 2018

the quest BEGINS...

A Message from Pendragon (Rally Mascot)

Welcome young and old to a weekend of witches and wizards! It has been written in the scrolls for many moons that one day a band of merry questers would gather in this location. And finally the day has come!

Allow me to introduce myself, I am Pendragon (Penn to those who I have taken a particular liking to) – the rally mascot. I am a kind-natured dragon that was born only this June. I love having my wings and fluffy back stroked. Though, please do not steal me as I fear the other dragons do not look kindly upon those of us who limp.

It is a pleasure and a privilege to meet you all on this grand occasion. Thank you all for adventuring this far to the mystic lands of Lancashire. We hope to make the journey worthwhile with many a boisterous task to put a fire in your belly:

At the rise of the sun and following a hearty breakfast, we will face our first challenge. But – be warned – here be dragons!

As the scorching sun shines its mid-way path over our day, your chosen quests shall commence. Whether it may take you to the Lakes of the North, the Dungeons of the Witches' Demise, or through the local taverns for rest and mead; I hope you enjoy your travels.

And finally, we will celebrate our gathering at the moon-close with a joyous banquet. We will sing and dance as the dwarves of old times; refreshed after facing our challenges.

Great fiery bellows of gratitude must also be extended to the band of noble warriors that have made this all possible: Edwin, the Strong of Heart and Misguided of Volunteering; Abigail, the Wise of Strategy and Getting Shit Done; Abigail, the Overseer of Coin; Lucy, the Brave Custodian of Sustenance; Emily, the Champion of Nourishment; Helen, the Scribe; Daisy, the Astute of Proclamation; and Pip, the Creator of Dragon. They, and their elvish assistants, will be on deck throughout the weekend should their fortitude be required.

Welcome one and all!

P.S. Should anyone have any livestock, gold or fair maidens I can swoop down to hoard, please report to Rally reception.

lancaſter fantaſy rally newsletter

BACK2BASICS- ROVERS100

Rovers100 has made exciting progress over the summer and now just need feedback on ideas and timings! SSAGO has many of its roots in Rovers, so we are keen to not let the occasion pass without a celebration. Make sure you fill in the survey available on the SSAGO website and check out the Facebook page for more information, do it soon though, the survey closes on Tuesday! We are planning on hosting a back2basics camp, and a fun series of Rovers related badges, to learn more search: SSAGO Rovers100 on Facebook, or email: rovers100@SSAGO.org

Complete the survey now!

SSAGO'S ROVERS100

Find out the plans; register your interest; and learn about 100 years of Rovers here:
<https://rovers100.ssago.org/>

slugs quest dreams slashed

Leicester's hopes of arriving to Rally at 20:30 were shattered when they discovered a slashed tyre. Regular updates were sent with some fun facts to keep us all going - even if they weren't! Did you know approximately 103,733,333 slugs would fit in the back of a ford transit van? And, over 8 million Ford Transit vans have been produced since the first one rolled off the production line in 1965. Unfortunately, SLUGS rolling days appear to be over. Their estimated arrival time got later and later until there was a final update from Jimmy, "Slug-ja vu visited the same petrol station twice after ending up in and infinity loop of a diversion. ETA 22:40". Leicester finally arrived, at 22:48, although feeling slightly sluggish.

hear ye! hear ye!

All the merry knights of SSAGO (reps) to meet at 9:30am on Sunday

ye olde joke section

I dreamed I drowned in an ocean made of orange soda.

When I woke I realized it was just a fanta sea.

How many fantasy characters does it take to screw in a lightbulb?

Five in the first book, ten in the second, and fifteen by the third. They won't finish screwing it in until the ninth book, after they've united the mortal races, reforged the artefact of power, and ended the civil war.

lancaster fantasy rally newsletter

horoscopes

Gemini:

You're going on an epic quest to find...yourself

Scorpio:

Tomorrow, something will happen. But we're not sure what.

Leo:

You will have some closet action with a witch tomorrow

Cancer:

It's not looking good for you.

Lord of the (beer) Rings-
The Two Towers

What lies beyond the veil?

Guess this is toothless?

Campfire was lit.

the welsh minibus is dragon out their bed time

SUGS and Cardiff battled with their minibus after the door got stuck open. It took five brave knights to fix the door before continuing with their epic journey.

Welcome to our international guests from the Netherlands and thank you for joining us on our journey this weekend!

lancaster fantasy rally newsletter

Name.....

Draw a Dragon over Breakfast Competition!
Hand in to Reuben from Keele, snapchat to National SSAGO or send to report.ssago.org. Winner will make tomorrow's newsletter!!

got a funny
story to share?

submit to:

report.ssago.org

OR add us on snapchat

fantasy riddles:

Turn us on our backs,
And open up our stomachs,
You will be the wisest of men,
Though at start a lummoX

---

It has a golden head
It has a golden tail
but it has no body.

Edited by Reuben, Georgina and Kerry of Keele SSAGO